ASPERS WOMAN IS ARRESTED

Mrs. Jacob Glant Arrested in Philadelphia with her Son Charged with Stealing from her Husband. Denies the Charge.

On a fugitive warrant charging them with the theft of goods from their home in Aspers, Mrs. Mary Glant and her son, Harry Taylor, were arrested in Philadelphia Tuesday by Detective Tucker, and locked up to await the arrival of officers from Adams county. The prosecutor is Jacob Glant, 71 years old, who a short time ago married Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Glant was found in an ice cream place in Philadelphia where she had secured a position as a waitress. Taylor, who is 31 years old, is being treated at the Philadelphia Hospital for injuries which he sustained on the Reading Railroad some time ago. According to the detectives Glant, the husband, advertised for a housekeeper, and Mrs. Taylor applied and got the position. Her management of his household affairs was so good that he proposed marriage and was accepted. Later there was trouble between the husband and his wife. It is said that a son of Glant by a former wife got a gun and told his stepmother and her son that if they did not get out he would shoot and kill both. Mrs. Glant denied that she and her son took anything with them that they did not bring to the place. The husband charged that his wife took a gold watch, bed linen and in fact everything in the place that could be conveniently carried away. The Philadelphia detectives admitted that a wife cannot be convicted of stealing from her husband, but said that they were bound to arrest Mrs. Glant, as the warrant was a fugitive one sworn to outside of the jurisdiction of that county.

BUSY TIMES IN THE COUNTY

Rural People Have Time Taken up by Fall Work and Pleasures. Corn Husking and Apple Packing. Many Entertainments.

Corn husking, apple picking and packing, surprise parties, attending county fairs and numerous other usual occupations of the fall season are now keeping the people of Adams County busy.

Reports from various parts of the county indicate that the corn crop will be about one half the average, though some farmers report three quarter yields. The corn was nearly all cut ten days ago and husking is now in order.

The upper end of the county is having its busy season with the apple picking and packing. The business is coming to be more of a science in that section every year and the fact that Adams County's orchards are taken as a model to teach the students at State College, shows what a high standard has been attained.

The crop of surprise parties this Fall and Winter promises to be a bumper. Never before have so many been reported so early in the season and people on all sides are entertaining their friends and being entertained.

The surrounding county fairs have taken many people from this section. York, Hanover and Carlisle fairs had their attendance figures swell greatly by Adams County people who took in the annual exhibitions and Hagerstown is also profiting from the patronage from this county.

The teachers of the county are affording entertaining and profitable evenings with their educational meetings which are being held at least once a month. In all of the schools there is some entertainment in the program while the profit comes from the discussions held on current school topics.

Chestnut parties are not as numerous as in other years. The crops are an average one. Shellbarks are scarce and few people have been spending any time hunting the nuts.

Cool weather is turning the attention of the ruralites to winter and pleasure and the next few months promise to have plenty of good times for those who have put in busy Summers.

TRAMP NUISANCE IS DISCUSSED

County Commissioners from All Parts of Pennsylvania in Convention here Discuss Methods to get Rid of Hoboes.

The twenty third annual convention of the county commissioners, county solicitors and county clerks of Pennsylvania opened in the Adams County Court House on Tuesday afternoon. Many officers from all parts of the state are in attendance.

A temporary organization was effected with Hugh B. Eastbrun, Esq., of Doylestown, temporary chairman, and S. Miley Miller, of Gettysburg, as secretary. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. D. W. Woods.

The address of welcome was made by District Attorney Neely who represented Burgess Holtzworth, Clement Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, county solicitor of Centre County, followed with the response and talked on "What Legislation will Prevent the Nuisance as it now Exists of Train Riders or Transient Tramps as they are now. Burdening many of the Counties of this State by their Arrest and Keep." Mr. Dale presented clearly the difficulty of coping with the "hobo" and referred to the fact that when they are chased from the cities and towns they simply harass the residents of the rural districts. He said that the problem is one of the most troublesome which now confronts the commissioners of the various counties.

At the evening session the tramp question was again taken up and discussed by the following: J. A. Miller, of Lawrence county; Clement Dale, of Centre; W. H. Grabe, of Butler; Conrad S. Sheive, Montgomery; Swithin Shortledge, Chester; C. W. Blackburn, Bedford; John F. Pitts, Lawrence; H. B. Eastbrun, of Doylestown; George H. Zimmerman, of Bedford; and James E. Robbins, of Clinton.

On motion of H. E. Zimmerman, of Centre County, it was decided that the Committee on Legislation be authorized to frame a suitable law to be submitted at the next meeting of the Legislature of Pennsylvania providing for the punishment of tramps and making part of the penalty a period of manual labor on the public roads or public works or buildings of the county.

At this morning's session Wellsboro was chosen over West Chester for the place of holding next year's convention. The meeting will be held the second Tuesday in September.

The following officers were elected: president, P. H. Dewey, Wellsboro; vice president, Swithin Shortledge, Landenberg; secretary, Harry A. Stevenson, Lock Haven; treasurer, John L. Dunlap, Bellefonte.

The subjects discussed at the morning session were:

"Would the month of March or April be more satisfactory for making assessment of all property than the time as fixed by law, viz: the first Monday in September?"

"Should the county pay the Sheriff's fees for the commitment and discharge of prisoners committed for the violation of offenses punishable by summary conviction?"

"Would a general and uniform law under the direction of the respective county commissioners for the proper care of the poor of this Commonwealth be desirable and more effective than the present?" A paper on this topic read by Prothonotary W. A. Taughinbaugh was one of the most striking features of the convention.

NO SAUR KRAUT

Lovers of saur kraut will have to learn to deny themselves that dish unless some of the local grocersmen can pretty quickly get some additional carloads of cabbage here.

The cabbage crop in all this section was a practical failure this summer because of the drought and only a very few persons of the many who set out plants have anything to show for it. Thousands of tender cabbage stalks dried up during the dry weather.

From Cashtown along the mountain to Latimore it is said that the crop is fairly good but elsewhere it amounts to practically nothing.

It is said the cabbage crop was not for many years so greatly damaged as the past summer.

If the demand for more carloads of the vegetable cannot be supplied there'll be such a dearth in the saur kraut supply as will cause a lot of grumbling in more than one household.

Clyde Myton, of the Motor Club of Harrisburg, has decided to call off the Sociability Run which was scheduled to be made on Friday, and he is now looking for a suitable place for a run during the latter part of the month.

"The dry weather and the roads, which have never been good, have placed them in very poor condition and Mr. Myton did not wish to ask the members of the Motor Club to drive their cars over such roads on a pleasure trip. ## CRANE RETIRES BY REQUEST

Minister to China Resigns at Knox's Suggestion.

MADE A SPIRITED REPLY

Declares He Was Unjustly Treated and Denies He Gave Newspapers Story That Caused the Trouble.

Washington, Oct. 13. — Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, minister designate to China, was practically deposed by a demand from Secretary Knox for his resignation.

Thus a new chapter in American diplomacy was written. A citizen chosen with special regard for his qualifications for the post was recalled before he had embarked from San Francisco and discharged from his high office because of alleged indiscreet disclosures through the press. Moreover, this minister, breaking through all the old traditions, insisted on defending himself from the aspersions cast upon him by the secretary of state by the issuance of a statement which most people here comment upon as certain to be very embarrassing to the administration.

The history of this extraordinary affair, which began about a week ago with the announcement that Minister Crane had been stopped at San Francisco at the moment of embarkation for his post by a demand from Secretary Knox for his return to Washington, reached at least its first crisis when the secretary in a formal statement announced that Mr. Crane's resignation had been invited, and the minister designate replied in an equally formal statement that while his resignation already had been tendered to the president, he felt himself very unjustly treated. Moreover, Mr. Crane in his statement reflected very severely upon the officials of the state department, charging that not only had they refrained from giving him the instructions usually issued to a minister or ambassador about to leave for his post, but that he had been denied access to them even after he had made repeated appointments with them.

He enters a sweeping denial of the charge that he "gave out" a newspaper story which is said to be the cause of his deposition, and places squarely upon the shoulders of President Taft the responsibility for the various utterances he has made regarding conditions in the Far East which have aroused the ire of Secretary Knox, and for final action upon his resignation.

SHORTAGE IS $400,000

Worthless Securities Pouring Into Wrecked Bank.

Mineral Point, Wis., Oct. 13. — A more serious aspect developed in the affairs of the First National bank here, it being reported that the shortage, instead of being $200,000 as at first estimated, will run close to $400,000. Vice President Phil Allen is said to have lost heavily in California and Montana mining investments. Worthless notes poured into the bank, and widows and orphans were hard hit, as Mr. Allen acted as administrator of many estates. The value of the securities which he has turned over to the bank has not been ascertained, but the western mining stock in the collection is said to be worthless.

MORSE IS ILL IN CELL FROM SHOCK

Little Hope of Releasing Financier on Bail.

New York, Oct. 13. — Officials at the Tombs prison reported that Charles W. Morse, the financier, had been taken suddenly ill, and after spending a restless night had been visited by the prison physician, who administered a sleeping potion. The illness was said to be a nervous breakdown following the failure of Morse's appeal from his fifteen year prison sentence. His illness is not believed to be of a serious nature, his physician said.

Morse's counsel, Martin W. Littleton, called at the federal building to learn the prospects of having Morse released on bail again, pending the final review of the case by the United States supreme court on a writ of certiorari, for which a forty days' stay of sentence has been granted.

Mr. Littleton received no encouragement from the court. The justices informed him that it was not the practice of the United States court of appeals to grant a prisoner's release on bail pending a review of its decision by the United States supreme court. They did not intimate that any exception might be made in the case because of the prisoner's reported breakdown.

Senator Flint Will Retire

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13. — Senator Frank P. Flint announced unofficially that when his present term of service expires on March 4, 1911, he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The value of the products of Alaska, a bleak tract bought of Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000, during the period from 1880 to 1908 were: Gold, $140,000,000; other minerals, $6,000,000; fish, $100,000,000; furs, $50,000,000. The present annual production includes minerals, $20,000,000; fish, $10,000,000; furs, $50,000,000. When it comes to conducting a pretty profitable real estate business Uncle Sam should be included with the rest.

CUTICURA CURED CHIEF OF POLICE

Canadian Officer Poisoned by Weeds — Eczema Developed and Legs Became Scaly — Ankles were Very Sore and Itchy — For Weeks He Could Not Wear Shoes.

FREED FROM ITCHING BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been successfully cured of dry eczema. I was inspecting the removal of noxious weeds, it being part of my duty, from the edge of a river and was constantly in the dust from the weeds. At night I shook out my trousers and cleaned my limbs, but felt a prickly sensation. I paid no attention to it for two years, but I noticed a scum on my legs like fish scales. I could scrape it off, and yet I did not attend to it until it came to be too itchy and sore and began getting very running sores. My ankles were all sore and scabby and I could not wear shoes. I had to use carpet and felt slippers for weeks. I was then on particular police duty and was compelled to be on duty. I got a box of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment. In less than ten days I could put on my boots and in less than three weeks, though on duty all the time, I was free from the confounded itching. I tell you frankly that Cuticura saved me from what the doctors called a bad leg. Capt. George P. Bliss, Chief of Police, Morris, Manitoba, Mar. 20, 1907, and Sept. 24, 1908."

DONE BY A WOMAN.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyrighted, 1923, by Associated Literary Press.)

It had often been remarked in the village of Highlands that Mrs. Carson, wife of the carpenter, was a smart woman. It was not so much that she had the Monday washing out an hour ahead of any other woman in the village or that her hens were laying eggs right along when other hens were resting, but that she was always putting smart ideas into her husband's head and he was always telling of them. The only reason none of these ideas were carried out was from lack of capital. A village carpenter working for $2 a day never has a bank account to back him up in speculations calling for thousands of dollars. That was the trouble with his wife's ideas—it wanted a lot of money to carry them out. Besides, Mr. Carson was not a born speculator. He was simply a good natured, easy going carpenter.

The day finally came when the carpenter sickened and died. He left a home clear of debt and a life insurance of $3,000. Some of the neighbors said that was more money than his wife could make in fifty years, notwithstanding her smartness, and others predicted that she would take the cash capital and open the eyes of the town. Within a month after the funeral it was known that she was making a move of some sort. The fact that she had sold her property could not be concealed from the public, but as to what she was going to do with the cash in hand she was reticent. The minister of her church called and offered his financial advice, but it did not seem to be greatly appreciated. Squire Henderson, who was supposed to be one of the cutest capitalists and speculators in that part of the state, called and tried for an hour to convince her that pork was sure to go up and that she could double her money by investing in hogs, but she would not promise to follow his advice. Advice came in from all sides and was received and laid on the shelf.

A mile west of Highlands and on the same line of railroad was a farm of 200 acres. It was one of the oldest and poorest on Long Island. It began at the railroad and ran back to the shores of the sound—not exactly to the shore, but to a marsh and a bayou and three or four tidal channels, the breeding ground of malaria and mosquitoes for ten miles around. The farm had been for sale since the oldest inhabitant could remember. It had passed from father to son two or three times. It had steadily gone to decay with all changes, and the day the Widow Carson made her call and announced she might buy it if the price were right she was regarded as an angel straight from heaven. The price was made right, and a promise was extorted that the name of the buyer should be kept secret for a certain length of time. Even before the deed was signed men were at work cutting down the dead and scraggy fruit and other trees, burning up rotten fences and clearing off the site everything but the house. That was left for the real estate office of the Highland Bluffs Improvement company. No one had ever seen any bluffs there, and no one could discover any bluffs there. But what of it?

On the same day that arrangements were made with the railroad company to build a suburban station at the bluffs a surveyor was in the field laying the old farm out into parks, avenues and streets. A few days later the maps were out. Then followed the advertisements of the new town. The Widow Carson came to the front now. She was handling the good thing all by herself—that is, she paid cash to her assistants, and that ended their interest in the matter.

The Widow Carson went on the principle that the bigger her advertisements the quicker they would come, and the more they would convince. She therefore took half pages. It was costly business, but even bankers came forward and offered to advance any money needed, and every day or two a new reporter came down from the city to give "the only woman in the real estate business" another fine writeup. Did you ever see a woman auctioneer? Well, the hundreds from the city who went down to that sale and got off the train where the foundations for the new depot were being dug saw one. It was Mrs. Carson. A lawyer and a notary were at hand to make out the deeds, but she took her stand on a box to act as auctioneer. It was a novelty. The crowd had come down feeling good natured, and the novelty further pleased them. There were beer and sandwiches, and the day was lovely. The tide covered most of the mud flats and the marsh, and if any one missed the bluffs he wasn't mean enough to speak of it. That auction sale went with a rush. Between 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 3 in the afternoon 400 lots were sold for cash down. The horse's nose bag used to hold the greenbacks was nearly full. After the first forty lots went the rest was all velvet for the widow. It is said that she quit over $25,000 ahead of the game. Quit? Oh, yes! They always do that, you know. She went up to the city and invested her money in a store and made it pay, and if you will go down to Highland Bluffs tomorrow you will find the place just as it was left the day after the auction. There are the frames of the "villas," the real estate office, the parks and streets, the water filled holes where the depot was to rest. You will find the marsh, the mud and the mosquitoes. "What's the matter?" you will ask. Nothing—nothing "tall." It was "just one of those sales," and the only novelty about it was that it was worked by a woman.

Pasteurized

An un-pasteurized milk is of DOUBTFUL purity, to say the least.

It costs money to properly pasteurize milk. Some dealers don't want to spend that money for their customers' protection.

The Gettysburg Ice & Storage Dairy spends it cheerfully—in its own interest and in YOURS.

Pasteurizing milk does not alter its quality—does not influence its richness—does not lessen its food value and digestibility.

Pasteurizing milk simply INSURES ITS PURITY. All milk is daily inspected upon arrival at the distributing plant and must be up to the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company standard of richness, cleanness and perfect chemical constituents. It is passed through a scientific pasteurizer (we have the most perfect pasteurizer outside of Philadelphia) and then bottled direct from the pasteurizing tank and capped—making it germ proof upon delivery to the customer.

Gettysburg Ice and Storage Milk is sold only in bottles and every bottle is twice scoured, jetted with boiling water four times and steamed by a specially constructed apparatus before filling.

HIGH GRADE SHEEP.

Blue Blood of Thoroughbreds Necessary For Keeping Up Standard.

A writer in Farm and Progress says: A mistaken idea that is very misleading and practiced by a great many farmers is in using a grade sire to grade up their herds or flock.

The use of a grade sire in breeding any class of live stock cannot be too strongly condemned, and I am sure if those who use grade sires would recognize the laws that govern breeding they would not use them.

The temptation to use grade sires, however, is invariably on account of the low price for which he can be secured and the resemblance he bears to the pure bred animal. In case he is one-half blood grade, mated with scrub breeding stock, there would be three parts of scrub blood to one part of improved blood, and in this event improvement would be impossible.

Take a grade sire, the product from a second cross, a three-fourths blood grade, mated with scrub breeding stock, there would be in this union five parts of scrub blood to three parts of improved blood. The work of improvement has made no progress.

Even with a grade sire from the third cross, a seven-eighths blood grade, mated with the scrub breeding stock, there would be nine parts of scrub blood to seven of improved blood, scrub blood still in the majority and improvement held back, as this scrub blood is wonderfully prepotent.

These facts should demonstrate the fallacy of using grade sires for improving or grading up our live stock, for in them breed, prepotency and characteristics have not been fully established and fixed. Therefore they do not possess that power to transmit the desired or breed qualities and improvement of their offspring.

On the other hand, in this process of grading up or improving our live stock the pure bred sire has that power from a long line of pure bred ancestry of transmitting to his offspring his breed, characteristics, traits and individual excellence with a remarkable degree of certainty, as breed, characteristics, uniformity of type, quality and production in live stock are the triumph of persistent and long line of straight breeding.

The use of a grade sire will only lead to degeneracy or scrubs, disappointment and failure.

Disposition of Breeders.

In breeding profitable horses care should be taken to select animals known to possess desirable qualities. Vicious mares should not be bred. Every year bad dispositioned horses send quite a number of persons to premature graves and cripple others, while the material damage they do is quite considerable.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her look Twenty Years Younger.

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT.

State of New York, ss. County of Monroe, ss. Rochester, N. Y.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Sworn to before me this 10th day of July, 1923.

Notary Public.

Society Women's Hair

A Simple Treatment that Will Make It Truly Fascinating. People's Drug Store Guarantees It.

Nowadays every up-to-date woman has radiant hair.

What a foolish creature a woman would be if she lost the opportunity to add to her attractions.

Yet in America today there are hundreds of thousands of women with harsh, dead characterless hair who do not make any attempt to improve it.

In Paris most women have beautiful hair, and in America all women who use Parisian Sage have lustrous and luxuriant hair.

And any woman reader of the Gettysburg Times can have attractive and lustrous hair in a few days' time by using this great hair rejuvenator, Parisian Sage.

People's Drug Store sells a large bottle for 50 cents and they guarantee it to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is an ideal hair tonic, not sticky or greasy.
